the manager of the Union Pacific Road writes that most of the minor complaints made have been adjusted according to recommendation, and that the improvements planned and others recommended by the commission will be carried out as quickly as the resources of the company will admit. The operating expenses up to the end of last year show an increase of nearly $700,000, indicating that the company is doing all that it can be reasonably expected to do in improving the physical condition of its property. In regard to train service, the Manager says: As recommended by the board, a first-class passenger train, running between Lincoln and Stromsburg, was put on November 16. Grand Island and North Loup trains will be changed to run to North Loup at night and return to Grand Island in the morning as soon as the road is extended to Ord and Loup City in the spring.
